

September 29, 2025

To Whom It May Concern:

Please let this letter serve as my highest recommendation for Kevin Worley. I have known Kevin for well over 10 years and have seen him grow and mature into a wonderful young man. His appetite for knowledge is enviable and I have had the pleasure of watching him grow into a terrific musician, and professional. Kevin has always done an excellent job in any environment, whether as a performer in a variety of genres and contexts. He got his undergraduate degree in Jazz Performance as well as Music Education and was an admirable performer that all people appreciated for his skills and talents. Upon graduation, he pursued a second degree in audio engineering, further gaining skills and expertise in the commercial music arena. In these situations, he continued to be a great asset through his work as an engineer in various roles, including as a Student Staff Engineer at Oceanway Nashville, and as a Studio Intern at Starstruck Entertainment, where he utilized his skills to help facilitate success in professional musical environments.

Kevin is kind, trustworthy and very intelligent. I know that he would be an asset and thrive in any situation. Feel free to reach out with any questions regarding Kevin Worley.

Sam Skelton

Director of Jazz Studies and Principal Lecturer of Saxophone

Bailey School of Music

Geer College of the Arts

Kennesaw State University

Kennesaw, Ga